

Tower View Nursery

We hope you are all well and would like to welcome all our new families to Tower View Nursery.

News from our playrooms

We have been having issues with GLOW emails but our wonderful admin team have been liaising with HQ to sort issue as soon as possible. We want you to continue to enjoy reading and seeing the play and learning of your child through their learning stories so hopefully issues will be resolved soon. Please also continue to share your comments regarding your child's learning with their keyworker, we would love to hear your thoughts. As you know, children are encouraged to play and learn in all weather, please ensure your child is dressed appropriately for going outside. Can we ask that any shoes your child wears are easy for your child to get off and on themselves? We encourage independent skills within the playrooms and some footwear can be difficult for staff and even more difficult for children. Also, please note, children's learning takes place in lots of different ways through a variety of media including sensory play which involves wet/dry sand, gloop, play dough, soil and many other things our children like to experiment with. This means that your child will get dirty during the fun, learning day in nursery. A dirty child is a happy child!

Policy of the Month

The policy this month is "Healthy Eating". Please take some time to read over the policy and share your views and any suggestions you may have. Paper copies of the newsletter and policy are available in our reception area.

Tower View team News

Wallace, our wonderful SFLW, has decided it was time to put his slippers on and rest up and has decided to retire. We all wish Wallace the best life in his well-earned retirement.

Important Dates for your Diary
